SUPPORTING THE COMMUNITY
— SINCE 1980 —

Hunter Hands of Hope

Hunter Hands of Hope does just its name suggests helping the local homeless, underprivileged people, families in financial hardship and people with disabilities.

Cessnock Leagues Club has donated $5,000 to the organisation under its Community Grants Program to ensure this valuable service continues.

Hunter Hands of Hope provides meals five nights a week along with breakfast and lunch packs, clothing and bedding to regular and random clients who seek assistance. The group has about 160 registered clients (67 homeless) with up to 45 seeking meals each night. Twenty volunteers provide the services on a weekly roster and around 30 prepare and donate meals.
